

Thank you for purchasing the TZR Products, Cam Driven Fuel Pump Upgrade kit. Please take note to the following:

The standard Hitachi Cam Driven Fuel Pump is perfect for a standard car, however for those who wish to push their cars to the next level it's one of the biggest restrictions.

TZR have developed a product to satisfy the enthusiasts out there.

After installation, it is your responsibility to make sure the vehicle is safe for you and others on the roads. By installing this kit, your car will become more powerful than the standard setup and hence the requirement for you to check if the current braking, suspension and engine internals are sufficient to cater for this pump.

Prior to installation, TZR recommends you install a new cam follower if your current one shows any signs of wear as the tip of the fuel pump piston rides on a cam-follower unit, which in-turn rides along a tri-angular cam lobe. Not changing this cam follower and proceeding with a wearing one can compromise your car's safety and engine's life. The standard cam followers from Mazda are sufficient to replace the worn ones if replacing is needed.

TZR cannot guarantee that your camshaft's fuel pump lobe will not experience increased wear, potentially leading to pre-mature and catastrophic failure. It is understood that upon the purchase of your fuel pump upgrade kit, TZR are not responsible for your vehicles conditions regarding your engine, cam, or cam follower.

Further to this it is absolutely mandatory that every consumer of our direct injection pump kit check the wear of the camshaft and follower as proper, preventative maintenance for your vehicle.

As a customer, you accept all responsibility for the potential increased wear on any and all parts associated with the direct injection fuel pump kit, should there be any.

TZR will not accept any warranty or claims for cam or cam follower failures or any damage as a result of those failures for this product. Once again, the customer accepts all potential risk upon purchasing this product.

TZR offer a 12 month warranty back through their supply chain network

Happy Motoring

TZR Products Australia